Speaking Truth In Love

Bobby Thompson

A collection of inspiring articles by a faithful gospel preacher. 206 articles on a wide range of Bible topics. A great book for sermon ideas, short talks, and invitations. 490 pages, hardback.

80139 hb .... $12.95

That They All May Be One

Walton Weaver

Brother Weaver presents an excellent examination of the biblical doctrines of unity and fellowship with a special section which reviews "Free In Christ" by Cecil Hook. This book, if both read and studied, will educate serious Bible students and prepare leaders to convict the gainsayers and to protect God's flock from grievous wolves that parade among them in sheep's clothing.

80371 pb .... $15.95

How Does the Holy Spirit Work in a Christian?

Kyle Pope

The views which many in the religious world hold regarding the work of the Holy Spirit color all aspects of their understanding of Biblical topics. These denominational concepts far too often find their way into the church in the language we use, and unscriptural notions we gradually adopt. This study is an attempt to carefully "weed out" concepts which are rooted in the theories and theologies of men in order to isolate the pure revelation of God on this most important question. The reader should test all things presented in the pages which follow by the infallible standard of God's word, accepting only what is found to be true to the Holy Spirit revealed oracles of God.

80171 $7.99

The Gospel Plan of Salvation

T.W. Brents

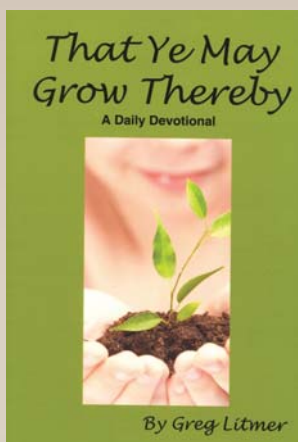

A monumental work on Calvinism. Every Bible student will profit from a study of this work.

80022 hb .... $19.99

2008 Church Directory

80139 PB .... $7.99

That You May Grow Thereby

Greg Litmer

Devotions that emphasizes spiritual growth. In addition to articles that touch one's heart, the book contains articles to teach basic doctrines in Scripture so that one's love for God grows in both heart and mind. Many of the articles in this book would make good inserts for the church bulletin.

BIBLICAL COMMENTARY ON THE NEW TESTAMENT

Olshausen's exegesis lies in his spirit, he excels beyond most commentators in what we may call the art of organic reproduction of the sacred text, and the explanation of Scripture by Scripture. What makes this commentary a classic is Olshausen's conservative view of the inspiration of the scriptures, his knowledge of the original languages, his unique ability to introduce the student to the inward unity of the divine revelation in its various stages of development under the old and new dispensation, and his parallel approach to the four Gospels. Olshausen was the first to give us a true parallel commentary of the Gospels.

Achmetha (Eubantia), in the palace of the Medes, that verified what the Jews had claimed. Cyrus had issued a decree that the Jews could return to their work. The decree stated that the temple was to be 60 cubits high and 60 cubits wide, with three rows of great stones and one row of new timbers. The expenses for building the temple were to be borne by the crown (5:4). The decree also stated that the vessels taken by Nebuchadnezzar were to be returned to the Jews. Therefore, Darius instructed Tattenai and Shethan-buana to leave the Jews alone to do their work. Furthermore, funds to pay for the work were to be used from the tribute money collected in the province. Sacrifices were also to be provided by the tribute collected. His only request was that prayer be offered for the success of the king (5:18). Darius closed his edicts by these words:

ening the punishment of death by hanging on a timber (crucifixion?) to any who tried to interfere with the work.

The Completion of the Temple

Tatnai and Shethar-borsnai related to the Jews what Darius had written. The elders of the Jews took advantage of these favorable occurrences to finish the Temple. Work was finished on the third day of the third month (March) of the sixth year of Darius (516 B.C.).

Dedication of the Temple
(6:16-22)

The children of Israel gathered to dedicate the Temple. In dedicating the temple, they offered 100 bullocks, 200 rams, 400 lambs, and a sin offering for each of the twelve tribes of Israel (6:17).<sup>4</sup> The offering of a sin offering for each tribe shows that the exiles considered themselves representative of all of Israel, not merely Judah and

The priesthood was re-established in its divisions and the Levites in their courses so that the service in the temple could be conducted according to the Law of the Lord.

The following month after the temple was dedicated, the people assembled in Jerusalem to observe the Passover in obedience to the Law (6:19-20). All who had separated themselves from the pollution of the heathen were invited to participate. The Passover was followed by the seven-day festival of the Unleavened Bread.

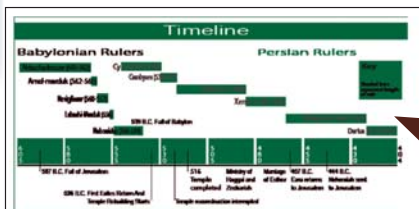

Questions

1. When did the Jews begin worshipping at the altar (3:5)? _____
2. Who were the two leaders of the restored cultus (3:7)? _____
3. What important feasts were observed in the seventh month? _____
4. Why did the Jews feel the need for the worship to begin (3:7)? _____
5. Why was money collected at this assembly (3:7)? _____
6. When was the foundation of the temple laid (3:8)? _____
7. How did the exiles celebrate the occasion (3:10-11)? _____
8. Why were the older exiles crying at the laying of the foundation (3:12-13)? _____
9. Who were the adversaries of the Jews (4:1)? _____
10. Why did the Jews refuse their offer for help in rebuilding the temple (4:3)? _____

<sup>7</sup> These offerings were small in comparison to those offered by Solomon when the original temple was dedicated. Solomon offered 22,000 oxen and 120,000 sheep (1 Kings 8:63).

Rebuilding the Temple

He was succeeded by Amel-marduk (562-560 B.C.; called Evil-merodach in the Bible) who was murdered by his brother-in-law, Nergissar (560-557-? B.C.). Nergissar was succeeded by his son Labashi-Marduk (556) who was assassinated after ruling a few months. Labashi-Marduk was succeeded by Nabonidus (556-539). Nabonidus alienated the populace by several acts: (a) removing his residence to Tema, southeast of Edom. He stayed there ten years and left his son Belshazzar in power; (b) suspending the annual New Year celebrations which alienated the priests; (c) removing the local deities to Babylon. As a result of these actions, a spirit of rebellion was arising in Babylon.

a rival and began making alliances to balance the power. Nabonidus made an alliance with Croesus of Lydia, but in a surprising attack in mid-winter Cyrus defeated Croesus (547-546). With Babylon's only ally defeated, the capture of Babylon was easy. The alienated Babylonians showed no loyalty to Nabonidus; rather, they viewed Cyrus as a liberator. The fall of the city, recorded in Daniel 5 in the account of the feast of Belshazzar, marked the end of the Babylonian period (539 B.C.).

prophecy in Isaiah 44:28-45:1. Isaiah's prophecy, written over 170 years before Cyrus was in power, foretold the role of Cyrus in delivering his people. Scholars conjecture that the aged statesman Daniel, who was given a position of power under Darius (Dan. 6:3), influenced Cyrus to favorably treat toward the Jews, perhaps assisting in writing the decree recorded in Ezra 1:1-4. However, a better understanding of the events is to recognize that the tolerance toward the Jews was a part of a much broader foreign policy which Cyrus exercised toward all captured people, including the Jews.

Regardless of what his attitude toward the Jews might have been, he did adopt a different foreign policy to that which the Babylonians had. Whereas they destroyed temples and brought their idols into the temples of the Babylonian deities, to demonstrate their power over the subjected people, Cyrus thought the best policy was to allow subordinated people to return to their homeland and rebuild their who also stirred up the people to do the work. His work was more apocalyptic than Haggai's and prophesied more about the messianic promise. Together with Haggai, they were successful in stirring up Zerubbabel and Joshua to reinstate the work on the temple.

over his people as seen by the fact that they were allowed to continue their construction while the matter was under investigation (5:5).

These Persian officials sent a letter to Darius the king to inquire whether or not the building project should be continued. They related that they had personally travelled to Jerusalem to see the temple project and asked who authorized the work. The Jewish leaders replied that they were rebuilding on the same site the temple which Nebuchadnezzar had destroyed. In the first year of King but the temple was not built (Hag. 1:4). Their lack of prosperity which was immediately caused by a drought was related to their lack of faithfulness to God (Hag. 2:6-11). Later, he reassured the people that, even though the temple was less glorious than the first, God would bless it in his presence (Hag. 2:1-9). He even started their messianic hopes (Hag.

Because of our ongoing commitment to quality, the design of Toddler Tables is routinely updated to reflect the changing needs of the childcare industry. Tables come with seats from one to eight children. Table legs have been re-designed to provide greater stability. In addition, there are many table height options, sizes and shapes to choose from.

All of our products are hand-crafted and put through a 12-step production process. In addition, we use only high-grade materials to ensure the utmost quality. Table tops are made from 1-1/8" laminate, and table edges are covered with high-impact molding. Tubular steel legs provide the strength and stability to withstand constant use and unexpected weight demands. And our plastic seats are made to last, providing ease of cleaning and maximum comfort for children up to 30 pounds. Each seat is polished during two separate finishing processes, resulting in a comfortable surface that is completely free of rough edges.

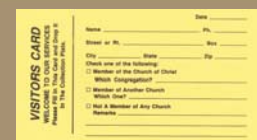

The 4, 6 and 8 seat tables are 48" X 72" X 1 1/8". Top is wood grain (light oak) standard or options listed. Height is fixed at 27 inches or at 14-inch fixed height. Shipping weight is 120 lbs., (2 boxes). Available in 4, 6, or 8 seats (top size is the same) except 4 seat space saver is 42" x 48". Seats are yellow polyethylene or other color choices listed. Seats will usually accommodate children from 5 up to 30 pounds. We do not guarantee that every child in this age group will fit into the seats. Seats remove easily for cleaning. Seat belts are included with table. Table and seats are warranted for one year.
